City Raiders For Love

We have met many clients in the past years and matched many successful couples for marriage. However, some are not successful as they do not understand some important things in a loving marriage or relationship. Based on the past matching experiences and event feedback, we designed and tailor-made this event with an aim that each participant could learn the important things in a loving or relationship through interacting with other participants in the event and eventually they could start improving their lives and learn how to have successful relationships.

What to do in the event?

This city adventurous game is a 6-hour event with teams competing challenging and interesting tasks by following an instruction connected with the area. Test out your speed, strategy, knowledge, confidence, communication in this event. You will be assigned in teams of up to ten participants. Each team will be provided with map of the love journey and a series of mysterious clues. The leader of each team will provide challenging instructions at each destination point.

There are a number of places to find and discover, clues are identified and pinpointed on the map to help with finding the next location. As they explore, the teams will get the chance to locate and visit different locations from Kowloon to Hong Kong or vice versa as well as taking public transportation, which may be done with either ferry or tram, using public transport which will further test team's ability to plan, cooperate, communicate and bargain.

Points are scored for locating the sites and solving the problems, bargaining to obtain a list finding answers to questions, time-keeping, photographic interpretation and bargaining skills. There are different checkpoints that you may need to take photos or perform some tasks in a group.

In this activity, teams are given a limited amount of money, and a treasure list. Their task is to find the items and then to bargain for the items. The fund of money the teams must be used to buy the items they need. The items represent the 'treasure' for the love.
